Minutes of the Faculty Development Programme on “Professional English – Tutoring Techniques and Communication Skills”

Faculty Development Programme on “Professional English – Tutoring Techniques and Communication Skills” was organized by Internal Quality Assurance Cell on 18.01.2024. Dr.V.Renuga, Associate Professor of Commerce and IQAC Co-ordinator welcomed the gathering. Dr.R.Anbuselvi, Principal presided over the programme and delivered the presidential address. She emphasized that participants should make use of this programme to develop their tutorial techniques and communication skills to assist students in understanding and learning subject material from the course. Dr. A.Sivakamasundari, Advisor and Dr.R.Sophia Porselvi, Controller of Examinations felicitated and stressed the need of the hour for the teaching faculty to improve their Professional English for the betterment of the students.

Resource Person Mrs.V.Mathumitha, Founder, Bright Maples, An Online Platform for Language Learning highlighted the methods of transferring knowledge and learning process to engage the students more actively with the course content. Teaching with tutorial techniques will strengthen subject comprehension, boost confidence and build important learning skills. She also insisted the main goal of the tutorial features is to encourage students to learn on their own and teachers should act as mentors to lead them to find the right answers and solutions.

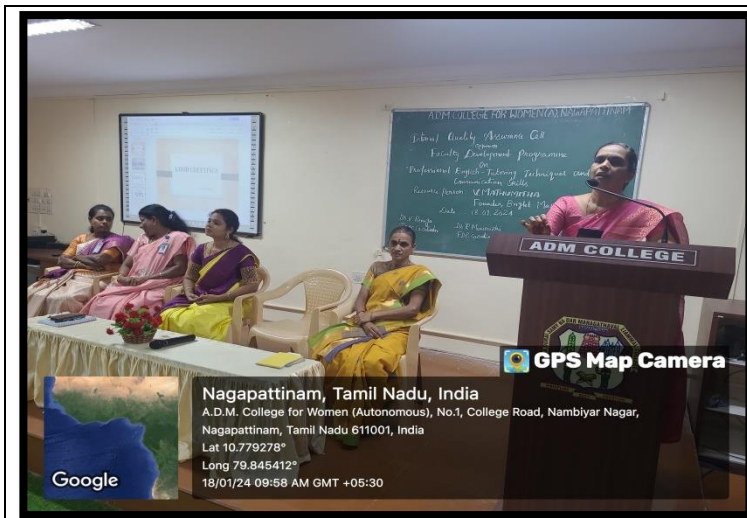

The programme was divided into four sessions, in first session she focused on Creative Writing : Strategies and techniques & Questions and Framing. Creativity and imagination takes priority over conveying facts and information of the course content. She differentiated that the creative writing has an emphasis on the tone of voice whereas technical writing is about the specificity of word choices.

In session two the participants were informed the activities under Group Discussion, Comprehending Dialogues and Argument building. The importance of Group Discussion in academic, business and administrative spheres was focused.

Fluency in communication and productive communication with good vocabulary and grammar can express the ideas clearly, concisely and effectively to build the teaching learning capacity was focused in the third session. Proficient writing skills with good communication skills will help teachers resolve conflicts and manage their classrooms effectively was also focused in this session.

Fourth session was concentrated on the objectives of LSRW skills. For instance, strong listening skills aid in developing accurate pronunciation when speaking. Reading enhances vocabulary, which in turn improves writing. Writing practice can lead to a deeper understanding of grammatical structures, benefiting both speaking and listening. Staff members recorded their feedback of the programme at the end of the session. Dr.R.Manimozhi, Head & Assistant Professor of English proposed the vote of thanks.
